

Acknowledgement of support:
The Primate's World Relief and Development Fund (PWRDF)

First Nations Adult and Higher Education Consortium

Blackfoot Cosmology Online Course

Register now for the joint Cosmology course developed by member colleges of the First Nations Adult and Higher Education Consortium, Canada

Open entry/open exit
Since February 2012

For Registration Contact:

Deonne White Quills
Kainai Studies Dept., Red Crow College
(403) 737-2400
kainaistudies@gmail.com

<http://kainaistudies.com>
<http://classroom.kainaistudies.com>

Akaitpiitsiniksistsi: Stories Of The Ancestors

Blackfoot Cosmology Online Course

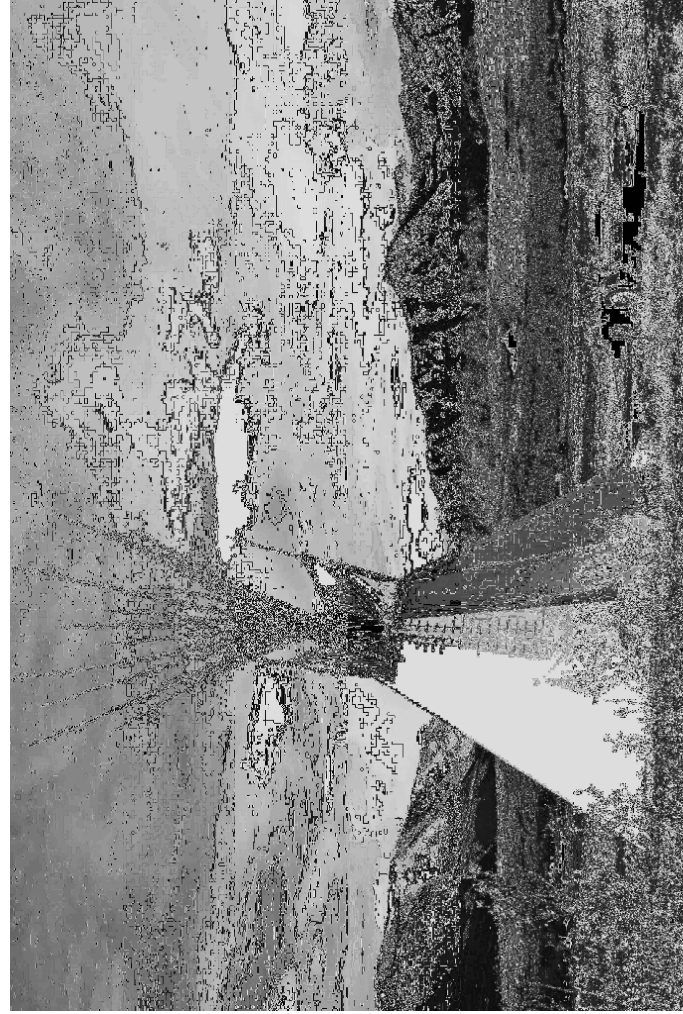

The First Nations Adult and Higher Education Consortium (FNAHEC) presents the inaugural course in an online series to introduce the knowledge, languages, philosophies, cultures, and worldviews of Alberta's First Nations

Blackfoot Pictograph

Akaitapiitsinikssiitsi: Stories Of The Ancestors

The Blackfoot Cosmology Online Course explores stories that are central to the indigenous knowledge tradition of the upper Saskatchewan and upper Missouri watersheds. These stories are more than quaint mythology, folklore, or even history. Rather, they detail a unique perspective on the composition and dynamic workings of the physical, social, psychological, and ecological reality we inhabit. Instructors well versed in this tradition will guide learners on a careful survey of some of the core concepts and understandings that have been almost completely overlooked in the literature of Blackfoot oral history

Kitawahssinoon: What Nourishes Us, Our Territory

The stories of the ancestors are inseparably connected to and imprinted upon the landscape, flora and fauna of Blackfoot Territory. Once familiar with these tales, you may never experience the natural features and residents of this land the same way again

For Registration Contact:

Deonne White Quills
Kainai Studies Dept., Red Crow College
(403) 737-2400
kainaistudies@gmail.com

Tuition + Registration:
Province of Alberta $810
All others $1,000 (CDN)